

Author Biography for Mesu Andrews

Mesu Andrews is an award-winning author and speaker who has devoted herself to passionate and intense study of Scripture. As the daughter of a Quaker and a Charismatic Protestant, Andrews' personal testimony describes how her unusual spiritual heritage led her to initially reject God. Her life changed however, when an old high school friend shared with her the Gospel message and challenged her to begin exploring the Bible for herself.

As her desire for God's Word grew, so did her passion for uncovering the truths found in Scripture. Andrews began teaching at Christian women's conferences until chronic illness made frequent travel impossible. In that season of brokenness, she began digging deeper into the Bible, which stirred her curiosity about biblical characters and their stories.

Andrews' approach to writing biblical novels is wrapped in awe for God's Word and a deliberate and careful examination of historical details. The result is a vivid and mesmerizing retelling of some of the most treasured narratives in Scripture.

Mesu Andrews' understanding of and love for God's Word brings the biblical world alive for her readers. Her first novel, Love Amid the Ashes won the 2012 ECPA Book of the Year for a Debut Author. Her three subsequent novels, Love's Sacred Song, Love in a Broken Vessel, and In the Shadow of Jezebel all released to great reader enthusiasm.

In her highly anticipated sixth novel and the follow-up to the 2015 release of The Pharaoh's Daughter, Andrews transports readers to the end of Israel's 430 years of slavery under Egyptian rule. Miriam: A Treasures of the Nile Novel (WaterBrook Press, March 15, 2016) centers on Israel's prophetess and the sister of Moses as she grapples with her brother's return and his role as God's chosen vessel. Will Miriam continue to trust God and does He still have a place for her as Israel stands on the brink of freedom?

Andrews has enjoyed 30 years of marriage to her husband Roy, who incidentally, was the old high school friend who introduced her to the truth of Jesus Christ. They live in the Pacific Northwest and have two adult daughters.
