

Author Biography for GLENN T. STANTON

Glenn T. Stanton is privileged to have been the husband of Jacqueline Kay Barnes for 29 years and counting, and the father to five amazing and endlessly growing children.

He has worked for more than 17 years as a full-time researcher and sought-after writer, speaker and contributing founder of the growing movement to recover marriage as a social resource in improving the well-being of children, women, men and communities. He greatly enjoys serving as the Director for Family Formation Studies at Focus on the Family in Colorado Springs, an international organization working to build thriving families around the globe.

Glenn debates and lectures extensively on the issues of gender, sexuality, marriage and parenting at universities and churches around the country. He served the George W. Bush administration for many years as a consultant on increasing fatherhood involvement in the Head Start program. Glenn is a regular contributor to Focus on the Family's Boundless blog, National Review Online's The Corner and The Home Front, as well as the Gospel Coalition

He is the author of five books and a contributor to nine others. In 2011, he published Secure Daughters Confident Sons: How Parents Guide Their Children into Authentic Masculinity and Femininity (Multnomah), which explores how mothers and fathers raise girls and boys to be strong, healthy women and men.

Other books include The Ring Makes All the Difference (Moody, 2011) which serves as a guide in understanding how marriage and cohabitation are very different kinds of foundations upon which to build healthy, thriving relationships, as well as Why Marriage Matters: Reasons to Believe in Marriage in Postmodern Society (NavPress, 1997), My Crazy, Imperfect Christian Family (NavPress, 2004) and Marriage on Trial: The Case Against Same-Sex Marriage and Parenting (InterVarsity Press, 2004) which was featured on C-SPAN BookTV. As of fall 2012, Glenn is at work completing Gauguin's Questions, which explores the importance of family in God's story through narrative theology.

The Stanton family lives in the majestic shadow of Pikes Peak in Colorado Springs, Colorado.
